I agree with this petition. Code is a much needed component and will be needed when digital systems go down in an emergency.
It is not a hardship to learn a bit of slow speed code and shows willingness to achieve a minimal commitment to the amateur service.